

IONIC
RESCUE

The ROCKA has been developed as a specialist safety water rescue boot designed for use with drysuits and prolonged periods submerged in water.

The updated Vibram sole unit is manufactured from a rubber compound giving the boot improved grip on wet terrain. The rugged pattern with deep tread channels are ideal features for use in rocky and flooded environments.

The boot has a generous internal fitting which is ideally suited for use with bulky drysocks, but still provides excellent comfort, protection and traction even when underwater.

It comes with a range of features including the Boa® Quick Release Closure System which is ideal where snag hazards might present a potential danger. The system ensures that the boot is tightened equally across the foot without being over tight which can cause discomfort. The low profile dial mechanism is easy to operate and also provides a quick release function, should the boot be required to be removed quickly and easily. The Boa® closure system comes with a lifetime warranty.

The upper design has a bellows tongue, which make the boot easy to don and remove even when using with a drysuit sock.
